Midland, Texas, Feb. 01, 2024 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Natural Gas Services Group, Inc. (NYSE: NGS), a leading provider of gas compression equipment, technology, and services to the energy industry, announced today the appointment of Justin Jacobs as Chief Executive Officer of NGS, effective February 12, 2024.

The appointment concludes an extensive and thorough search process undertaken by the Board of Directors over the past year. Stephen Taylor, who serves as Interim Chief Executive Officer, will remain Chairman of Board of NGS and will provide transition services for 6 months as per his retirement agreement.

"We are delighted to have Justin take an executive role at this important point in NGS's history," Mr. Taylor said. "In working with him for several years as an engaged shareholder in the company and then working very closely with him in his time as a director, I'm confident his expertise will help drive the continued upward trajectory of our performance. As one of the company's largest shareholders, I am excited about the future of NGS."

"NGS is a great company that has grown significantly over the past year with a huge opportunity ahead, particularly considering the company's strong competitive position and industry tailwinds," noted Mr. Jacobs. "Throughout my career, I have worked with companies as an investor, operator, and director to drive returns for shareholders. I look forward to working closely with Steve during his transition, NGS's President and COO, Brian Tucker, and the outstanding operating team at the company. I believe the future for NGS is bright."

Mr. Jacobs joins NGS from Mill Road Capital, an investment firm focused on investing in, and partnering with, small publicly traded companies in the U.S. and Canada.
